Topic: Numbers Colour: Purple

We celebrated Chinese New Year

Could you share with us a festival or celebration special to your family?

The EYFS values the role that festivals and celebrations play in supporting children's learning and development in every area of learning, and through them parents and practitioners can support children in beginning to understand the commonalities of human values that are shared by all cultures and religions. The EYFS encourages families and providers to help children understand one another's cultures and beliefs in a world that's diverse and vibrant.
